ANNUAL REPORT

JULY 2019 - JUNE 2020
YEAR 4

SUMMARY

In light of the obvious difficulties we have all faced this year, we are pleased that our engagement figures were consistent with last year and would have no doubt shown growth had we not all been rocked by this global pandemic.

Despite not being able to deliver face to face sessions for the final quarter and schools being shut, our team worked hard to adapt to offering remote support and moving some of our training online, so we could continue to engage with our beneficiaries, who due to the pandemic, needed even more support.

This year we have continued to develop our interventions and support offers, working more closely with teachers and parents within our schools and communities, to help them look after themselves and therefore be more able to support the young people they are responsible for.

We have also worked on strengthening our impact measurement and evaluations, that will help to support our new strategic development and funding strategy moving forward.

We have strengthened our existing provisions and formed many new relationships and ideas that leave us feeling excited for the next year. The Trustees would like to thank everyone who has supported us this year, it really does make a massive difference.

ManpowerGroup™

ManpowerGroup UK is partnering with Youth Development Charity Bedazzle throughout 2020.

We have been grateful for the fundraising efforts of ManpowerGroup, despite many national fundraising events being disrupted. We hope we can build on this relationship further when things return to normal.

We have also been fortunate to be selected as one of the Co-Op Local Community Organisations this year, meaning members who select us as their chosen charity will help raise funds for us from their purchases.

WORK IN SCHOOLS

This year we have secured contracts to provide SEMH support workers in schools, one day a week with 3 partner schools, one of which we are now entering our 4th year working together. We have continued to provide training, workshops and 'ad-hoc' or brief interventions with numerous other schools and colleges. This has also included more campaigns raising awareness of Mental Health across whole school communities, including staff and parents.

More recently with the uncertainty looming around Covid 19, we have seen many services shut down at a time when people's Mental Health and well-being is affected more than ever. Therefore, we have been able to utilise our presence within the schools to find novel ways of keeping people connected. Right now, we are preparing to return to schools, as they re-open and will get to see the real stories and affects of lockdown.

We have offered direct support with a therapeutic approach to over 150 young people in 1:1 or small group settings and devised a bespoke programme for year 6 bubbles as they return this month. We have also engaged countless other young people; with our work in the arts - delivering both in curriculum and extra curricular sessions, through information and signposting from self referrals or contact from parents of young people, and through our other well-being and life skills workshops or community based events.

TRAINING

This year has seen our training numbers and courses offered increase, despite the difficulties and extra strain schools have endured. We were quick to make our training more flexible and responsive to the challenges people were facing. This is the benefit of training with us, as we get to see the real issues, effective solutions and good practice through our work with Senior Leaders and SENco/Pastoral teams in our partner schools.

We now offer the full suite of Youth Mental Health First Aid England courses; 2 day, 1 day and half day sessions. As well as still running public and open courses, we have offered courses online and in house for larger numbers of staff across Academy groups and teaching alliances. Going online has widened our reach. This year we have also trained students in FE, as well as parents of our partner schools.

We have also begun training for the National Education Union, across the 11 West Midlands branches on various areas of social, emotional health and inclusivity.

"ROCK OF AGES"

This year we have strengthened our relationships with Wolverhampton Music Education Hub, with Bedazzle joining the official hub partners and managing Wolverhampton Youth Music Theatre (WYMT), a summer outreach programme for young people interested in music and theatre from 14-21 years old. WYMT celebrated its 20th Anniversary this year and we are delighted to be continuing that journey with them and some of the founding directors

Our summer production at the Arena Theatre, Rock of Ages, was the most technically challenging to date but we felt 20 years was something worth celebrating and showcasing WYMT at its best. More information on WYMT and the history can be found on our website and the dedicated Facebook page. The talented youngsters also produced A Christmas Concert in just one day, on December 27th, at our base at The Music School.

Whilst lockdown will inevitably mean for the first year ever, we will not be able to perform in our usual capacity in Summer 2020 we are thankful for the continued support this programme receives as a hub partner and look forward to coming back bigger, better and stronger than before. Rock of Ages saw almost 50 members in on and off stage roles. Many of this years principals have now begun their professional training at schools and conservatoires across the country.
